

Fort Wayne Sentinel.

VOLUME 4.—No. 9.

FORT WAYNE, IN., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1848.

WHOLE NUMBER, 441.

THOMAS TIGAR,

EDITOR & PUBLISHER.
IN THE THIRD STORY OF BARNETT AND HANKS', NEW BUILDING, COLUMBIA STREET.

TERMS:
$3.00 PER ANNUM IN ADVANCE.
$2.50 IF PAID WITHIN SIX MONTHS.
$3.00 AT THE END OF THE YEAR.

All Letters on business must be post paid or they will not be attended to.

Advertisements inserted for Ten cents per line for three weeks—Five cents for each subsequent insertion, when consisting of 10 lines or over; but no ad. inserted for less than $1. Job Work done on the usual terms.

THE MUSE.

LOVE, AND HOME, AND NATIVELAND.

When o'er the silent deep we rove,
More fondly than our thoughts will stray
To those we leave—to those we love,
Whose prayers pursue our watery way.
When to the lonely midnight hour
The sailor takes his watchful stand,
His heart then feels the holiest power
Of love, and home, and native land.
In vain may tropic climes display
Their glittering shores, their gorgeous shells;
Though bright birds wing the dazzling way,
And glorious flowers adorn the dells;
Though nature there, prolific pours
The treasures of her magic hand,
The eye, but not the heart, adores—
The heart still beats for native land.

HARVEST SONG.

Hot rouse ye lads! the morning breeze
Has swept the mist from the stream,
And afar on the hills the towering trees
Are apt with the day's first beam.
The stars are gone—the night has sped,
And the lark has hailed the day;
Arouse ye, then, while the morn is red—
Away to the fields—away!
To us no music sounds more sweet
Than the sharpening clang of the scythe,
And echoing hills with gladness greet
The song of the reaper blithe.
How pleasant to follow, with rake in hand,
The mower's drowsy way,
And chatter abroad with blithesome wand
The green and perfumed hay!

Let the soldier exult in the pomp of war,
The king in his self-thronged hall;
The freeman farmer is happier far
Than kings, and lords, and all.
His are no fields with carriage red,
And drenched with blood of the slain;
But hills and vales o'er which is spread
A harvest of waving grain.
The summer's sun o'er the valley and plain
Has shed its genial ray,
Till smiling acres of golden grain
Await the harvest day.
And into their borders we will not fail
To carry the war "to the knife;"
And eager, too, are the cradle and flail
To be wielded in bloodless strife.
Then up and away! while the diamond dew
Besprinkles the bending corn;
And gaily we'll labor, while we woo
The bracing breath of morn;
And under the shade of the beeches green
We'll rest at noon of day;
Hurrah for the sickle and scythe so keen,
Away to the fields away!

TILLAGE.

'Tis folly in the extreme to till
Extensive fields, and till them ill;
The farmer, please'd may boast aloud,
His bushels sown, his acres ploughed;
And please'd, indulge the cheering hope
That time will bring a plentiful crop;
Shrewd common sense is laughing by—
For when maturing smile,
Thin sheaves shall disappoint his toil.
Advised, this empty pride expel,
TILL LITTLE, and that LITTLE WELL.
Of tilling, fencing, till, no more
Your ground requires than rich than poor;
And more one fertile acre yields
Than the huge breadth of barren fields.
Neat be your farms; 'tis long confessed
The nearest farmer is the best.
Each bog and marsh industrious drain,
Nor let vile barks deform the plain;
No bushes on your headland grow,
For briars sloven's culture show.
Neat be your barns, your houses neat,
Your doors be clean, your courtyards sweet,
No moss your sheltering roof enshroud,
No wooden panes the windows cloud,
No filthy kennels foully flow,
Nor weeds with rankling poison glow;
But shades expand and fruit trees bloom,
And flowing shrubs exhale perfume;
With pales your garden circle round,
Defend, enrich, and clean the ground,
Prize high the pleasing useful road,
And fill with vegetables good.

FORT WAYNE SENTINEL.

THE TOMATO.

This wholesome and favorite vegetable is now in full season, and we cannot do a more acceptable service to our readers than to republish and recommend to their notice the following recipe. We have tried all of them, and speak knowingly of their excellence. The beautiful transparent catnip, made of the juice of the tomato, as here directed, is really a prime article, and far superior to the muddy looking compound made from the pulp in the method usually followed here. The recipe for preserving is the one our better half, who professes to have some taste in those matters, has followed for years. It makes a delicious sweetmeat, superior, in our opinion, to any other preserve in use, and at much less expense, as it only requires half the usual quantity of sugar.

TOMATO PRESERVE.—A preserve may be made from tomatoes, nearly as good as that from peaches which it much resembles. If any of our readers wish to try the following, we will venture to say they will never neglect to include tomatoes among their sweetmeats hereafter.

Scald your tomatoes and skin them; then take half as many pounds of sugar as you have of tomatoes, gently simmer it over the fire, and skim it carefully, put your tomatoes in the hot syrup, add a lemon to every three or four pounds tomatoes, and a few cloves. Let them boil slowly till done, and you will have one of the best, and the cheapest preserve that can be made.

If the lemons cannot be obtained, crab apples may be substituted—say one pound of crabs to four or five of tomatoes, and add a few drops of essence of lemon. The tomatoes alone have rather an insipid taste and need some acid to correct it. It is the want of this sharpness in tomatoes preserved alone which has given some persons a dislike to them.

PICKLES.—Tomatoes make a good pickle in any state, either green or ripe; we prefer them just as they commence to ripen. The small plum or cherry kind look the best, but any kind will answer. They may be put down in weak brine, and will keep the year round. When you "do them up" they need soaking two or three days, changing the water occasionally, until they are sufficiently fresh; then pack them tolerably close in a suitable jar, adding to each layer a few sliced onions, with pepper, cloves, allspice, red peppers, mustard seed, &c.; fill up with good vinegar, and let them stand two or three weeks. You will then have pickles fit to be set before the Mayor of the city, the President of the United States, or any other distinguished personage.

For present use, the tomatoes may be sliced when gathered, a little salt sprinkled on them, and after laying over night to allow the juice to drain from them, pickled as above.

As cucumbers are very scarce this year, it may be worth while to make out the stock of pickles with tomatoes. Those who do it and follow these directions will have no cause to regret the want of cucumbers. They will have the best and most wholesome pickles they ever possessed.

TOMATO CATSUP.—The tomatoes, when fully ripe, should be bruised and boiled slowly for half an hour—then strained through a cloth, and the liquid boiled another half hour after adding salt and spices, but without any admixture of water. The scum should be carefully removed, so as to render the liquor as pure as possible. It should be bottled and kept in a cool place. After it has stood a short time, should any sediment be discovered in the bottles, (and in order to know with certainty, clear bottles would be the best for this use,) the liquor should be poured off into other bottles. In this way, cat-sup of excellent quality—preferable, in our judgment, to that from mushrooms, and clear as choice Madeira—can be readily made, in greater quantity and with less trouble than in the common way.

TOMATO FIGS.—Take six pounds of sugar to one peck (or sixteen lbs.) of the fruit in the usual way. Cook them over a fire, their own juice being sufficient without the addition of water until the sugar penetrates and they are clarified. They are then taken out spread on dishes, flattened and dried in the sun. A small quantity of syrup should be occasionally sprinkled over them whilst drying; after which pack them down in boxes, treat each layer with powdered sugar. The syrup is afterwards concentrated and bottled for use. They keep well from year to year and retain surprisingly their flavor, which is nearly the quality of fresh figs. The pear shaped or single tomato answers the purpose best. Ordinary brown sugar may be used, a large portion of which is retained in the syrup.

New use of the Tomato.—The Cheraw Gazette states that, in addition to the advantages of the Tomato for table use, the vine is of great value as food for cattle, especially cows. It is stated that a cow fed on Tomato vines will give more milk, and yield butter of finer flavor, and in greater abundance, than on any other long feed ever tried. It is thought, too, that more good food for cattle, and at less expense can be raised from a given quantity of ground planted in Tomatoes, than from any other vegetable known in the Southern country.

A Genuine Irishman.—The Dublin Freeman records the following incident, as having occurred at the meeting of the Repeal Association: Mr. O'Connell said that the first money he had to hand up, was the sum of 5 pounds 5 shillings the subscription of Lagan's infant son as yet unborn, who had come from Liverpool for the express purpose of being born in Ireland. Laugh and cheer. He was quite in earnest—the fact was just as he stated it. Mr. Lagan and his lady had pre-arranged the whole affair, and a few days since, when Mrs. Lagan was near her confinement, she determined on coming over to Dublin, in order to secure for her son, who was about to be born, the privilege of having it to say, that he had drawn his first breath in Ireland, and was an Irishman.

The Secret Pamphlet.

A TALE OF THE TIME OF LOUIS XVI.

In one of a suite of apartments in the magnificent chateau of Versailles, appropriated to the President du Conseil des Ministres, sat John Frederic Philipeux, Count of Maurepas, and Premier of France. Habited in a rich morning gown of figured brocade, and seated at a small table, carved and gilt after the fashion of the time of Louis XVI., the Count's attention seemed to be wholly absorbed by some papers before him, which, from certain signs in his manner, contractions of the brow, shuddings of the shoulder, and wavings of the hand and pen, might have reasonably been supposed to have had relation to some subject of intense interest. At length a new idea seemed to strike him; his countenance became irradiated, with a triumphant smile; his hesitation vanished; he placed his pen to the paper, traced a few rapid words, dashed the pen upon the table, and, throwing himself back in his chair, rubbed his hands in an ecstasy of delight.

"Hh!" he exclaimed, "that is just the very word! It is the best epigram I have ever written! Terse, pointed, stinging, it will make Beaumarchais and Rivalro jealous; but it has cost me the whole morning—the morning of Count de Maurepas, President of the Council. In truth, I am half sorry that the confidence of the young king called me from the exile to which my epigram on Madame de Pompadour consigned me. If one turns statesman he has no time to be a bel esprit. It is a great bore—but it is a lucky thing for some ministers! But the worst of my lot is to be compelled to work under hand against the Queen—one of the best of women in the world, but she will use all her influence with the King to favor the interests of her brother, Joseph II. It is only by anonymous squibs, epigrams, and pamphlets, that I can keep the Count out of the grasp of the Austrian. La politique sentimentale! Pshaw! two beautiful words to go together!"

"His Excellency the Duke of Bringham!" was the announcement of an usher in waiting. "Show him in—a stupid, tiresome old bore." "Tis too bad to have one's hours broken in upon in this way. It is scarcely noon yet, and here comes the Austrian ambassador to begin the dull routine of small diplomacy. Ah, Monsieur le Duc, I am exceedingly happy to see you. I received your note last evening, complaining of the publication of a pamphlet reflecting upon the policy and character of your august Master, Joseph II. It perfectly astounded me. I can hardly believe that there exists any one who would have the impudence—the audacity—"

"Then look for yourself—here it is. I have not as yet shown it to the Queen, who of course will feel highly indignant at such an attack upon her brother, in her own capital. I wished on your account to give you an opportunity of taking some steps in the matter. Your Excellency is very kind!" "I have done so because it is rumored that I am indebted to you for several squibs and epigrams, representing me as an impotent old fool, and that this pamphlet is from the same author. If such a report reaches the Queen and sets her against you, I don't know how I can defend you, unless something is done to discover and punish the real author of this libel. You see I am very frank."

"Yes, and you will see that I will be equally frank with you. Tell the chief of the secret police that I wish to see him," exclaimed the Count to a servant. "Now you shall hear Monsieur le Duc, what I am going to dictate, and you can represent it, yourself to the Queen."

In a few moments, Monsieur Griflet, the head of the secret police and confidential secretary of the minister, made his appearance, and was directed to seat himself, and write after the dictation of the Count.

"In the name of the King," commenced the minister. "Having learned that there has been published, anonymously, a pamphlet, entitled 'Joseph II. and his Policy,' whereby offered a reward of ten thousand francs to any one affording information leading to the discovery of the author. And considering, moreover, that the work is highly disrespectful to his Majesty, Joseph II., every person possessing a copy is commanded to deliver it up to the police to be destroyed. Shall we begin with the one that you have, Monsieur le Duc?"

"You are too good," replied the Duke, "as to mine, I prefer to keep it."

"And so will the good people of Paris," muttered the Count to himself, as he recommenced dictating.

"We order, moreover, that the author, if he is discovered, shall be sent to the Bastille."

"You will add some fine—some tortures of property too, will you not, inquired the Duke."

"Certainly, the reward of ten thousand francs shall be paid to the author. Show what you have written, Griflet, to Monsieur l'Ambassadeur. I hope it satisfies your Excellency. What can I do more?"

"Quite satisfactory! And now all that remains to be done is to have this printed in the largest type and posted in the public places."

"The order shall be given to the royal printing office."

"It must be in the largest type,"

"I will attend to it myself," replied the Count, bowing to the Duke out. "Griflet! send for a workman of the royal printing office.—Ha!" he exclaimed as the door closed upon the retiring ambassador, "this will give piquancy to my pamphlet; a better plan could not have been devised to add to its notoriety, and to ensure its being universally read. Ah, Griflet, what are you looking so puzzled about?"

"About the reason that could induce you to offer ten thousand francs for the discovery of the author of your own work—one that your Excellency made me copy and carry myself to a printer."

"For that reason," returned the Count, "because I am sure of compromising no one."

"But your Excellency will allow me to remind you of a similar case, in the time of Louis XV., in which a certain minister lost his place."

"Yes, an epigram against Madame de Pompadour, the original of which was unfortunately found in my hand writing! But in this case, where I have again undertaken to serve the King in spite of myself, I have been more prudent, and, with that view, I made you copy the article and take it to the same printer: who had a press in the violation of the law. By the bye, I see that he has made a mistake in leaving out one of the most piquant notes. I hope that you have not left any of your copy with him."

"I have the whole of it."

"And my manuscript—where is it? I told you to return it to me."

"Yes, your Excellency. I will return it to you."

"But where is it? I want to see it immediately."

"I hope your Excellency does not distrust me?"

"Not at all. I pay you too high for that; but come, where are my papers?"

With not a little embarrassment and agitation—unnoticed, however, by the Count—Griflet drew from his pocket several sheets of paper, and handed them down to his chief. The truth was, that one sheet of the original was missing, and Monsieur Griflet, unable to account for it in any way, had taken the liberty of supplying its place with one of his own, and trembled lest the exchanges should be discovered. Fortunately for him, the minister, without glancing at the writing, merely shuffled the sheets in his hand, and ascertaining that their number was correct, put his manuscript in his pocket.

"If your Excellency has no particular orders for me this morning," said Griflet, recovering from his fear, "I should like to have leave of absence for a while. I wish to attend my intended bride."

"You marry! And pray who may be the unfortunate?"

"Monsieur is pleased to be facetious; my intended is the daughter of the most renowned aubergiste of Versailles—sixteen and handsome."

"Young and handsome! Oh, that alters the case. I should like to see her."

"Diable!" muttered the Secretary to himself, "My vanity has betrayed me."

"I am now going to the King," continued the Count. "On my return you shall present her to me."

"Yes, monseigneur, with her mother?"

"Oh! as to the mother, I will not insist upon that. I hold only to the young one; I shall be happy to offer her a marriage present, and—and a few words of consolation."

"Ah, laugh away," exclaimed Griflet, as the Count retired, "perhaps you won't laugh long! An old rascal—he mocks at everything—even at me—but I may yet have my revenge. He thinks I am bound hand and foot to him, but perhaps he will lose office before long, and then he will see—I will take good care that he has proof to the contrary. But it is most time for the arrival of my future mother-in-law, who was to call upon me with her daughter. Ah! perhaps she is she?"

The door opened, and a man clad in the garb of an artisan, with a little greasy cap on his head, entered and stared around at the furniture and ornaments of the room in stupid astonishment. While thus occupied, the chief of the secret police turned his eyes upon him with a vague idea of having seen him before; but it was not until an expression of shrewdness had succeeded to the first emotion of surprise, that Griflet recognized the printer whom he had employed to print the pamphlet written by his chief. At first some doubts of the object of the printer's visit flashed across the mind of the Secretary, but confiding in the disguise which he had employed, he boldly accosted him.

"It seems to me," he said, "that this is the first time that you have been sent as a messenger of the royal printing office. Why is that?"

"For a very good reason. I have only entered it to-day."

"And where did you work before?"

"I worked at my own house. I had a press, but unfortunately I had no license; so the police made a descent upon me; carried off my press, and turned me into the king's office to work out my fine. I think such conduct is disgusting. If I was a king of France, I would nominate myself lieutenant of police, to reform all such abuses."

"I have nothing to fear from him," muttered Griflet. "Here is the proclamation which you were sent about. Read it, and make up your mind as to the kind of letter in which it can be displayed to the best advantage. You will wait here until the minister comes, who wishes to talk with you upon the subject himself. I must go."

"Ah, ha, Monsieur Coleche," exclaimed the printer, when left to himself. "You are to have the honor of talking with a minister! Well, I should like it better if I was not a hurry to see Madame Giraud and my affianced bride—my pretty Cecile. But let us see what this proclamation amounts to."

"Not a little to his surprise, Coleche found that it referred to the pamphlet which he had himself set up. One sheet of the manuscript being in duplicate, he had by accident retained the extra copy, and he expressed his regret that, not knowing the author's name and residence, he had been unable to return it. As he read on, the offer of ten thousand francs gave him still more reason to regret his ignorance. While busily engaged in speculating aloud upon the subject, admiring the room, and handling the articles of luxury with which it was filled, the door opened, and in entered Madame Giraud and her daughter.

"Madame Giraud!" exclaimed Coleche. "Cecile!—you here—why what business can you have with the minister?"

"Ah, my poor Coleche!" replied Madame Giraud. "Things have taken a new turn, and a sigh from Cecile confirmed the observation."

"You sigh, Cecile! What can have happened? Can it be that you love me no longer?"

"No," replied Cecile; "I love you as much as ever, but—"

"But," interrupted her mother. "As she is about to marry another—"

"Another!—how so? You must be joking. Come, come, I like a joke in general, but I must say this one is exceedingly annoying."

"Alas!" replied Cecile; "this is no joke, you cannot say that it is true! There must be some mistake!" exclaimed Coleche, setting the not unwilling hand of the pretty and modest little Cecile.

"There is no mistake," interrupted Madame Giraud. "Did you not write to us you had lost everything?"

"True!—but my sentiments remain the same."

"Ah your sentiments I do not doubt; but they will not pay a mortgage of six thousand francs which we are under to one of the secretaries of this minister. We can get no more time upon it, and the threats to sell my tavern, and turn us penniless into the street."

"What an avaricious tiger! He cannot have seen Cecile, or he would have some compassion. He must be blind."

"On the contrary, he has seen her; and as a consideration of not proceeding against us, he demands her hand."

"Which you have promised?"

"What else could I do? I have been to Paris to try and raise the sum, but not a friend will give me any assistance."

"Ah! those friends I knew them well;—but you, Cecile, you will not consent?"

"I don't know; what can I do? I can't see my mother in want."

"I will save you from that. You shall not be disturbed. I will raise the money. I will go as a soldier. I will sell my person—your property, Cecile."

"But is a man worth six thousand francs?" inquired Madame.

"You're right," replied Coleche; "what can be done? At this moment the proclamation caught his eye. 'Ah! an idea!' he exclaimed. 'Give yourself no further trouble. I have an idea.'"

"An idea? We don't want an idea but six thousand francs."

"Ten thousand, if you wish! I will count them out to you in a few moments," and Coleche flourished the proclamation, danced about the room, snapping his fingers, shrugging his shoulders, and finished by giving the half pleased, half astonished Cecile a hearty embrace.

"Ten thousand francs!" exclaimed the mother. "Ah! Coleche, you must have stolen them."

"Yes! certainly! and a curious place I have stolen them from—you could never guess—the Bastille. But here comes some one. Ah! Cecile, I sacrifice myself to save you—remember you don't marry the Secretary nor—nor any one else."

"The Secretary entered, and warmly saluting Madame Giraud and her daughter, nor did he hear the comments upon his age and his ugliness in which Coleche indulged. All conversation was, however, in a few minutes interrupted by the entrance of the minister, accompanied by the Austrian ambassador."

"Yes, Monsieur le Duc," exclaimed the Count as they entered. "The queen is going to Petit-Trianon; we will go together and get there before her."

"And the proclamation?" interrupted the Duke.

"I am going to see about it now. Ah, Griflet, whom have you there?"

"Your Excellency ordered me to present my intended."

"True she is not bad looking, rather young though such an old chap as you. Well, never mind—don't get angry; let her wait for a few moments in the next room. And now, where is the printer?"

"Here at your Excellency's service!" exclaimed Coleche; coming forward and raising his paper cap.

"Ah! you are the one, eh? Very well; explain to his Excellency the Duke in what form, and with what type, it will be possible to print this proclamation."

"It is not worth while to do that," replied Coleche.

"Why not?" demanded the count, surprised at such an answer.

"Because I will not print it all."

"How?" exclaimed the count. "Impertinent!" ejaculated Griflet. "Do you mean to throw away all respect?" demanded the Duke.

"Not at all; but I mean to gain ten thousand francs," replied Coleche.

"What is that you say?" inquired the count.

"That is the sum promised to whoever will make known the author of the pamphlet in question. Very well I know the author."

"Where is he?" eagerly demanded the Duke.

"He is here at this moment."

"This announcement created no little astonishment. The Count thought, of course, that he had been betrayed; Griflet thought that his disguise had been penetrated; while the Duke felt satisfied that his suspicions of the ministers were about to be confirmed."

"Twenty thousand francs if he holds his tongue," whispered the Count to his secretary, who sidled up to Coleche, and endeavored, unheard by the Duke, to make the offer.

"My friend, I want to offer you—"

"Bah! I won't hear a word of it. He is trying to bribe me your Excellency," and the Duke promptly ordered Griflet out of the room. "Now we will hear," glancing at the chop-fallen minister, "who this author is."

"In a moment, your Excellency; where is the reward?"

"You shall have it; I give you my word."

"That is very satisfactory, but I had rather have it on paper—you little dream whom I shall name—you cannot suspect—"

"He knows it all!"

"Very well; Monsieur le Comte will sign a bond, looking at the minister, who felt himself compelled to write an order for the money. 'Here, with this content you!'"

"Perfectly; but—regarding the order, I know this hand: where the d— have I seen it?" thought Coleche.

"And now speak!" said the impatient Duke; "who is the author?"

"He is—"

"Who? who?"

"Oh, Cecile! Oh, the devotion of love!" exclaimed Coleche. "He is—myself! I am the guilty wretch."

"You!" exclaimed the Duke in a tone of surprise, while the Count burst into a hearty laugh, in which he was joined by the Duke, although looking exceedingly puzzled, and not more than half pleased.

"A new method of raising the wind," said the Count. "The poor devil is after the reward! an observation to which the Duke assented, as he joined more heartily in the merriment of the minister."

"Two old jokers," thought Coleche. "I beg pardon to your Excellencies—it is not for me to dictate—but, if you can make it more convenient to imprison me immediately for the day."

you will oblige me, as I am terribly pressed for the money."

"You see, Monsieur le Duc," observed the Count, "it would be ridiculous to send such a fellow to the Bastille—an insult to the prison of Voltaire."

"Without doubt—such a fool is incapable—but perhaps his folly is assumed—there have been such things—Brutus, for example. I will ask him a few questions. Look here, sir, since you pretend to be the author of this pamphlet, what were the motives which induced you to undertake to degrade the name of Joseph II?"

"The name of Joseph II! I have not degraded it; I put it in superb capitals. I have given him six capitals—if a sovereign is not content with that—"

"But do you maintain the principles put forth in paragraph five?"

"To be sure!"

"So Joseph II. has no acted rights towards Belgium?"

"No; he has not."

"And he has no right to punish a want of the fidelity to him?"

"No! he has no right! Because, you see, perfidy is—neither here nor there; and, as to sentiments, you know—policy, &c.—besides all the rest. You see, the fact is, the Emperor ought to have said—that—that—I'll tell you what he ought to have said.—Belgium, my little fellow, you've cut up several dirty capers! Well, let it pass; but let me catch you at it again, that's all!"

A burst of laughter from the Count interrupted the explanation of the Austrian policy and poor Coleche was told that he could take himself off.

"Well, but the Bastille!" he exclaimed.

"He holds to the purpose," said the Duke. "Hiss ambitious. My dear fellow, you can't make us the dupes of such a ridiculous hoax."

"Yes, it is clear that he cannot be the author of the pamphlet," returned the Count.

"I not the author! What injustice! Well, prove it then, prove who is the author,—is it you? If it is you, let us see! Take the fifth paragraph of which we have been talking—tell us what was in the note which was left out by mistake in printing—tell us that!"

exclaimed Coleche, in a tone of triumph.

"Monsieur le Comte seems to be troubled," observed the Duke, glancing at the minister.

"What note?"

"Ah! wait a moment until I recollect. Oh! I remember—it was the Ambassador of Austria."

"Upon me?"

"Yes; listen;—as to the envoy of Joseph II. it is said that he had but one single good quality, that is the facility with which he can be duped. Now, for my part, I think that is his greatest fault, because it does away with all the pleasure of duping him?"

The recital of this note threw the Duke into an ecstasy or rage, while the Count began to think that Coleche was some friend who knew more than he avowed, and was trying to save him from some unknown danger. As the hour for visiting the Queen had arrived, the Minister departed together, the latter insisting upon an order of arrest of the printer, determined to probe to the uttermost a mystery so galling to his vanity.

[Remainder next week.]

Cucumbers equal to Asparagus.—Some time since, says the New York Sun, on the authority of a correspondent, we recommend that Cucumbers be dressed in the same way as Asparagus, and a dish would be produced equal to the latter. We have tried the experiment, and find that our correspondent is correct—many thanks to him. The Savannah Republican notices the suggestion, and states that the article has been served up on toast at the Pulaski House, Savannah, for the last six years and says that if the cucumbers be sliced lengthwise, and fried in butter they will be found an excellent substitute for fried oysters.

A HARD CUSTOMER.—The Wetumpka Argus contains an offer of one thousand acres of land, made by Obadiah Langston, of Bibb co., Ala., for the arrest of a man named Mark W. Doss, and his delivery into the custody of any keeper of a jail in Texas. Said Doss is represented as having deserted his wife, stolen a wagon and team in Alabama, and gone over to Texas, where he turned to preaching as a Baptist minister, making a great outward show of sanctity. He ingratiated himself into the good favor of a widow lady, and stole her gold watch and decamped. He then reappeared in another part of Texas, represented his wife in Alabama to be dead, turned to preaching the Gospel again, married a yellow woman, quarrelled with the brother of his first wife, and waylaid and shot him. For this he was thrown into jail, broke out twice, and the last time made good his escape.

Elegant Extract.—We desire to start the following choice morsel of political and personal opinion, on the grand tour of the press. It may be found in the N. Y. Courier and Enquirer of Dec. 24, 1830, and is from the classic pen of Col. James Watson Webb: here it is:

"They (the national Republican Whig party) look to Henry Clay, who by one act, consummated more to the dishonor of the country than a whole life of Gen. Jackson, even if placed at the disposal of enemies—namely selling the high office of President of the United States to John Quincy Adams, and receiving in return the appointment of Secretary of State. All the waters of Lethe will never wash that stain from the character of Henry Clay."

Well—we wonder what is more powerful than all the waters of Lethe, that has at last washed this stain from the character of Henry Clay; and restored him to the pure milk-white arms and chaste affections of James Watson Webb!—New York Aurora.

ALABAMA.—The running of Henry C. Lea against Dixon H. Lewis in the third Congressional District of Alabama, gives rise, says the Philadelphia Forum, to considerable report; the former being the tallest, and the latter the broadest in the State—late against late—high standing, steady against bottom. Bottom will doubtless carry the day.

any object in the present communication is to say something in favor of the Yellow river and. It is admitted by men best acquainted with the country that there is not as good a road for a road of the same distance as from Fort Wayne by Columbia to Tippecanoe river. One half of the money that will be required upon some of our roads, would make this an excellent one. But what are the advantages likely to result to Fort Wayne from the improvement of this road? In the first place it would secure the trade of Whitley county, and prevent the produce of its inhabitants from being deposited at some other place on the Canal. Whitley county is soli-

W,

T. LAW, and Predecessors and to the Synagogue,
 it may be
 K.
 to, Ky.
 and.
 an Ameri-
 -7-ent dimimarkus,

all to Eu
Eu sent to almost as NDEN.
5.
Chappell's
all orders at reason-is from rt, at last any age or and grate-

YDER.
7-7 er's Drug change for Goods! from New hardcore.

SON, AND
nts,
c. &c.
are streets;
bleached
nish you, oxide

Wayne
89 LOTS
 Subia street part of the adapted for HOUSES LAND and on it, 11 miles toward Tang the build-cultivation.

be sold on est of any this country be given

50.
Fall DEER
PENDEN
hem.
Y.

ESTOP Hill's and where ho of 6. 62
Lachyett
on street,
and call lodgings at far to me.
4-Is!
and this very
of.
ENDEN.
store.

cheap.
 pelving and ods which rk and Bas than ever
 Their stock
 ealsware, called for ed no low ighed; we the most themselves.
 our Cloth and you more ent west of ill hear from fine fresh ales, stout now for cash.

& SON.

Veneering.
for sale by ATTENDEX.
pyll frowel Yarn.
at.
ATTENDEX.
lot for win-

County.
Vacation, July

On this case, Indiana, Jacob of Indiana, as to the said complaint, answer the call of the court of said Auburn, in city of October, constant, will and a decree

Gragg, has any other all persons account, as GG, JR.
3. 4-1000

of with an industrious and enterprising community, and a little assistance rendered from this way to the property that by the community and then a good and cheap route of conveyance afforded them.

By the improvement of this route we should direct hither all the produce of Warsaw, Leesburg and Oswego. I am informed by one of the proprietors of Oswego, that if our roads will allow of it they intend to send their flour this way and bring their goods by Fort Wayne instead of doing their business at the Lake; and when we consider the immense amount of produce that this county will send off in a few years, it is worth an effort to secure its direction to our town.

When it was proposed to erect another bridge over St. Mary's a few years ago a merchant of Fort Wayne said he would not give any thing; that the country people had to do their business at Wayne and they would get there some way, so that the building of a bridge would not increase his trade. I hope and trust that now while there is an opportunity of securing the trade of a large section of country at a trifling expense, such HOME BOUND principles will not control the action of our wealthy men.

A CITIZEN.

The Rev. E. MANFORD, of Terre Haute, will with submission to Providence preach at the Court-house in Fort Wayne, on Sunday the 10th inst at 11 o'clock. A. M. also at early daylight. On Monday evening at the School house near McDonald's in Adams township.

On Tuesday evening at the Feeder Dam. Thursday evening at Hunter's, Perry township.

Friday evening at Peter Pettit's schoolhouse, Washington township.

Saturday, at eleven o'clock at G. Ballard's same evening at the school house, near L. Bayless'.

N. B. The above appointments may be changed to 11 or 3 o'clock if it will better suit the convenience of the public.

"The shipwrecked sailors, who again To storm expose their lives, Show far more wisdom than the men Who marry second wives."

MARRIED.—In Peru, on Tuesday last, by Rev. Mr. Johnson, SMALWOOD NOEL Esq. Postmaster of this city, to Mrs. Sophia C. Hood, of Peru.

In this city on Tuesday last, by Rev. Mr. Boyd, MR. A. S. JONES to Miss MALVINA THOMPSON.

DIED.—On Monday evening last, EDWARD C. STEVENS, son of Bradford B. Stevens, aged 7 months.

LIST OF BANKABLE FUNDS.

A list of banks, the notes of which are receivable at the Fort Wayne Branch of the State Bank of Indiana. There are counterfeited or altered notes on all bank notes marked thus *

Bank of	Branch
Bank of Washington	Washington
Bank of Adams	Adams
Bank of Hamilton	Hamilton
Bank of Lawrence	Lawrence
Bank of Madison	Madison
Bank of New York	New York
Bank of Ohio	Ohio
Bank of Pennsylvania	Pennsylvania
Bank of Maryland	Maryland
Bank of Delaware	Delaware
Bank of Virginia	Virginia
Bank of North Carolina	North Carolina
Bank of South Carolina	South Carolina
Bank of Georgia	Georgia
Bank of Florida	Florida
Bank of Alabama	Alabama
Bank of Mississippi	Mississippi
Bank of Louisiana	Louisiana
Bank of Texas	Texas
Bank of Arkansas	Arkansas
Bank of Missouri	Missouri
Bank of Illinois	Illinois
Bank of Indiana	Indiana
Bank of Kentucky	Kentucky
Bank of Tennessee	Tennessee
Bank of Mississippi	Mississippi
Bank of Louisiana	Louisiana
Bank of Texas	Texas
Bank of Arkansas	Arkansas
Bank of Missouri	Missouri
Bank of Illinois	Illinois
Bank of Indiana	Indiana
Bank of Kentucky	Kentucky
Bank of Tennessee	Tennessee

Bank of Louisville

Bank of Kentucky

Bank of Tennessee

Bank of Mississippi

Bank of Louisiana

Bank of Texas

Bank of Arkansas

Bank of Missouri

Bank of Illinois

Bank of Indiana

Bank of Kentucky

Bank of Tennessee

Bank of Mississippi

Bank of Louisiana

Bank of Texas

Bank of Arkansas

Bank of Missouri

Bank of Illinois

Bank of Indiana

Bank of Kentucky

Bank of Tennessee

Bank of Mississippi

Bank of Louisiana

GEORGE JOHNSON, NOTARY PUBLIC.

Office in Hanna's three story brick, on Columbus street.

September 2, 1843.

EDWARD F. COLERICK, ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW.

Office on Berry street, one door East of the Market House.

September 2, 1843.

New and Cheap Saddler's Shop.

Saddlery at Eastern Prices.

W. M. BOWEN has opened a Saddlery Shop in the room over E. Stapleton's Auction Store, on Columbus street, where he intends to make and sell every article in his line much lower than ever before offered here. Farmers and others will find it to their advantage to give him a call as they may depend on being supplied with good articles at extraordinary low prices.

Well made Saddles from $10; Brides from $12 all other articles equally low.

A liberal discount from these prices will be made to country merchants and other wholesale purchasers.

Carrriages Trimmed on short notice. Repairing and other work done to order.

Most kinds of country Produce taken for cash. Fort Wayne, Sept. 2, 1843.

Administrators' Sale.

THE undersigned, administrators of the estate of James Douglass, late of Allen county, deceased, will expose at public sale on Saturday the 23d of September at the Court house door in Fort Wayne, 80 Acres of Land, being the west half of the south east quarter of Sect. 15, in town 30, north of range 13 east, four acres of which are improved, and a good log cabin on the same.

A credit of six and nine months will be given; good security required.

JOHN R. COLERICK, JOHN ROGERS, Administrators.

Domestic Attachment.

John Little, vs. August 31, 1843, the plaintiff.

AMOR SELL, vs. August 31, 1843, the plaintiff.

SUED out from before me a Justice of the Peace in Allen County Indiana his writ of attachment directed to Brizzia B. Stevens, against the same, which is returned served by attaching one barrel more which is valued at twenty-five dollars the proceedings in this case will be had before me at my Office in Fort Wayne on the 23d of September, 1843 at 10 o'clock.

ROBERT HOOD, Justice of the Peace.

Flax Seed Wanted.

CASH paid for any quantity of Flax Seed delivered at my Drug Store.

LEWIS BEECHER, R. Fort Wayne Sept. 2, 1843.

Wells County Tax Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given to the tax payers of Wells County that the Treasurer or his agent will attend at the several places of holding elections for the purpose of receiving taxes, on the following days, to wit:

In Jefferson, Thursday, October 19.

Lancaster, Friday, " 20

Rock Creek, Saturday, " 21

Jackman, Sunday, " 22

Chick, Tuesday, " 24

Liberty, Wednesday, " 25

Northham, Thursday, " 26

Harris, Friday, " 27

He will attend at his office in Bluffton from the 1st of October until the 1st of December next for the same purpose; after which all taxes will be charged with a penalty, and collected according to law.

Payment of taxes for 1843 is as follows, to wit:

For state purposes (including the tax for debt and duty) 20 cents 2 mills on each $100 valuation; and 30 cents on each poll. For county purposes 35 cents on each $100 valuation, and 15 cents on each poll. For road purposes 14 cents on each acre of taxable land, and 15 cents on each $100 valuation of town lots and improvements thereon.

For township purposes in Harrison 8 cents on each $100 valuation, and 6 cents on each poll.

ADAM HALL, Treasurer's Office, Bluffton, Treas. Wells Co. Aug. 26, 1843.

Look here Farmers, Hunters, Diggers and Boys.

WANTED, 10 TONS of Ginseng and Service snake roots 1500 red and grey deer skins 3000 lbs. bees wax 8000 lbs. butter 1000 dozen eggs 2000 lbs. bacon, (hams, shoulders and sides.) And any quantity of Wheat, Corn and Oats. N. B. We would prefer paying for the above in Dry Goods, Groceries and Crockery, though if necessary to keep trade going, we will advance some CASH. No hawking, nor send them in. [Aug 26] SINCLEAR & CHITTENDEN.

St. Clair Money!

A CAUTION.—I take this method to caution any bill holder of St. Clair money, against any attempt to share on this money, knowing, as I do, it is uniform promptness and ability of that Bank to redeem their paper in specie, and I will exchange any other funds for St. Clair money, and sell any kind of goods as low for St. Clair money, whether endorsed by J. O. & H. Smith or not, as they can be bought in Fort Wayne for specie.

F. H. TYLER, Of Yellow Store, Ft. Wayne, Aug. 26, 1843.

Cooper Stuff Wanted.

HAMILTON & WILLIAMS wish to contract for the delivery of Staves and Heading sufficient for FIVE THOUSAND Flour Barrels, delivered at their Mill in Fort Wayne. Those wishing to furnish will please apply immediately. August 26, 1843.

Water power at Wabash Town.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED at the office of the Auditor of Public Accounts in Indiana, until Monday the 19th of October next, for leasing all the water power at the Lock in Wabash town, (Wabash and Erie Canal.) The Lock is 9 feet high and is supposed to afford water enough to drive three run of stones, the most of the time; but two run only will be let with the understanding that the lessee is to pay for all the water that can be supplied, not to exceed three run. This is the only power the State will have to offer at this point.

A sufficient portion of ground will be set apart for the use of the lessee, on which to erect his mill and the mill yard. Bidders will state a price per power, being understood to be water sufficient to propel a run of 44 feet mill stones, when applied to an overshot wheel of 8 feet in diameter. At this Lock there can be at least 74 feet over shot wheel, or a fifteen foot breast wheel to be driven by the engine.

The highest bidder will (he) lose. If two bids are equal the choice will be determined by lot. Proposals may be sent by mail, directed to the undersigned at Indianapolis.

M. MORRIS, A. P. A. GEO. H. DUNN, Treasr. WM. SHEETS, Secy.

August 8, 1843.

ANY quantity of Palm Leaf, Fur and Silk Hat, of the latest fashion, at the Cash and Produce Store of L. G. & R. P. JONES.

Cranberries Wanted.

I will pay CASH on delivery at my Drug Store, Cranberries of the best quality, and of the best time, for one or two hundred bushels, and let them make one or two dollars per day in cash. LEWIS BEECHER.

Fort Wayne Sept. 2, 1843.

Just Published, The Cheap Store.

TO THE FARMERS.—Our assortment is new, complete, consisting of Dry Goods, Groceries, and Crockery. Call and examine them. SINCLEAR & CHITTENDEN.

State of Indiana, Adams county, ss. In the Probate Court of Adams; May Term, 1842. Matter of the estate of Thomas J. Forsyth, deceased.

Now comes the administrator of said estate, by his attorney, and makes his report in writing, whereby it appears to the satisfaction of the Court that the personal estate of said deceased is insufficient to pay the outstanding debts against the same. It is therefore ordered by the Court, that notice be given to the nonresident heirs of the said deceased to wit John Forsyth, James Forsyth, Robert Forsyth, Rebecca Forsyth, Allen S. Forsyth, Elizabeth Forsyth, Samuel Forsyth and George Forsyth, to appear in said Court at the February term thereof to be holden on the second Monday in February next at the Court House in the town of Decatur in said county (if so caused if any they can why the real estate of said deceased shall not be made assets in discharge of the administration of said estate) and to show cause why the said Administrator should not be discharged of the said administration.

Attest JAS. LINDSEY, CLERK. May 20th 1842.

Black Salts.

HAMILTON & WILLIAMS will pay the highest price for any quantity of Black Salts. June 17, 1843.

Crockery, Queensware, China and Glassware.

SINCLEAR & CHITTENDEN have just received a splendid lot of Crockery, Queensware, China, and Glassware, which will be sold very cheap.

June 15, 1843.

COTTON YARN. Lots of it on hand and more coming, which will be sold at reduced prices by SINCLEAR & CHITTENDEN.

June 15, 1843.

Pine Shingles.

M. first quality of Pine Shingles for sale by S. HANNA & SON.

June 24, 1843.

SUGAR received this day direct from New Orleans and will be sold low a shillings or retail, by HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.

June 24th.

GLASSES.—A few barrels of the article, of excellent quality, received this day direct from New Orleans.

HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.

June 24th.

House and Lots for Sale.

THE undersigned offer for sale a rent and commodious DWELLING HOUSE, and a lot of land, with every necessary convenience for a family, situated in the town of Decatur, in Adams county, Indiana, near the River, and within 10 miles of Fort Wayne. Will be sold for cash, or approved payments. For terms enquire of the undersigned.

THOMAS JOHN O. H. WILLIAMS.

June 2, 1843.

COOKING STOVES.

HAMILTON & WILLIAMS have just received on consignment from the Pringle Iron Foundry, Erie, Pa. an assortment of cooking stoves of superior quality, and upon the latest improvement, which they will sell very low for cash.

WANTED.—5000 LBS. BEES WAX for which an unusually high price will be paid. SINCLEAR & CHITTENDEN.

June 7, 1843.

GROCERIES.—A fresh supply of Family Groceries, just received by HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.

LINK TO KNEE, of the latest fashion, kept in stock, and made to order. Ladies are invited to call and examine the same.

MRS. P. JONES.

Fort Wayne, June 4, 1843.

AMNES, FRENCH KID & FILLER, and LISLE GLOVES just received by HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.

June 17, 1843.

INDIANA HOUSE, T. N. LAWTON, CORNER OF SUMMIT & VIVAN STREETS, WILSON, OHIO.

A good Livery Stable is attached to this House.

ALEXANDER WILLIAMS, Attorney and Counsellor at Law, FORT WAYNE, INDIANA.

Office on Columbus street, opposite Dr. Becker's Drug Store.

TO OUR RETAIL CUSTOMERS, GREEN'S Arrow Satin, 1st hand, colored Cambrs, 1st hand, Green Robesons, and Broad Quiltings have arrived.

Aug. 26, 1843. SINCLEAR & CHITTENDEN.

INSIDE OIL.—For sale by the barrel or gallon, at BEECHER'S DRUG STORE, Fort Wayne, Ind.

SPRINTS TURPENTINE—C. oil and Japan Varnish of the best quality, for sale at BEECHER'S DRUG STORE.

Aug. 5. Fort Wayne Ind.

S. G. UPTON, Attorney and Counsellor at Law, BLUFFTON, WELLS COUNTY, IA.

All professional business entrusted to his care, will be faithfully attended to.

He will also attend to the sale of lands, payment of taxes, and all business connected with Land Agency, &c.

Aug. 2. 4-15

MOORE.—Just received, a lot of superfine Lafayette flour, on commission.

Aug. 4. L. G. & R. P. JONES.

Keep Looking!

JUST RECEIVED 50 pieces Blue Drill, which was bought at manufacturing prices, and will be sold at a small advance at the Cash and Produce Store of L. G. & R. P. JONES.

Look at this.

WANTED at the Cash and Produce Store, 20,000 bushels wheat; 10,000 lbs. corn;

For which the highest market price will be paid by L. G. & R. P. JONES.

RECEIVED direct from Pittsburgh, and on hand at the Cash and Produce Store, a small lot of Iron; 50 kegs nails, nos. 3 to 27; 25 boxes window glass, all sizes; a fine assortment of glass ware, which we will sell at a small advance on Pittsburgh prices.

L. G. & R. P. JONES.

Strayed, FROM Lacro, Wabash county, in May last, a light red BAY MARE, 5 or 6 years old, 14 hands high, has a lump on the inside of each knee; a scar on the hind leg above the gambel; a small star in the forehead, and a little white under the saddle. Any person who will return said mare to the subscriber at Lago, or give information where it is to be found to Daniel Damm, living in the Fort at Fort Wayne, shall be suitably rewarded.

JOHN MAHONEY, August 2, 1843. 4-3wp

To Mechanics.

50 DOZ. LITTLE SPINNING WHEEL IRONS, J. Thirkle's make. Let the wheelwrights come and get them, and make up a goodly little spinning wheel, for they are much wanted, so say the industrious women; and they are the only ones worth believing or heeding.

Aug. 26. SINCLEAR & CHITTENDEN.

THE CHEAP STORE.

TO THE FARMERS.—Our assortment is new, complete, consisting of Dry Goods, Groceries, and Crockery. Call and examine them. SINCLEAR & CHITTENDEN.

State of Indiana, Adams county, ss. In the Probate Court of Adams; May Term, 1842. Matter of the estate of Thomas J. Forsyth, deceased.

Now comes the administrator of said estate, by his attorney, and makes his report in writing, whereby it appears to the satisfaction of the Court that the personal estate of said deceased is insufficient to pay the outstanding debts against the same. It is therefore ordered by the Court, that notice be given to the nonresident heirs of the said deceased to wit John Forsyth, James Forsyth, Robert Forsyth, Rebecca Forsyth, Allen S. Forsyth, Elizabeth Forsyth, Samuel Forsyth and George Forsyth, to appear in said Court at the February term thereof to be holden on the second Monday in February next at the Court House in the town of Decatur in said county (if so caused if any they can why the real estate of said deceased shall not be made assets in discharge of the administration of said estate) and to show cause why the said Administrator should not be discharged of the said administration.

Attest JAS. LINDSEY, CLERK. May 20th 1842.

Black Salts.

HAMILTON & WILLIAMS will pay the highest price for any quantity of Black Salts. June 17, 1843.

Crockery, Queensware, China and Glassware.

SINCLEAR & CHITTENDEN have just received a splendid lot of Crockery, Queensware, China, and Glassware, which will be sold very cheap.

June 15, 1843.

COTTON YARN. Lots of it on hand and more coming, which will be sold at reduced prices by SINCLEAR & CHITTENDEN.

June 15, 1843.

Pine Shingles.

M. first quality of Pine Shingles for sale by S. HANNA & SON.

June 24, 1843.

SUGAR received this day direct from New Orleans and will be sold low a shillings or retail, by HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.

June 24th.

GLASSES.—A few barrels of the article, of excellent quality, received this day direct from New Orleans.

HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.

June 24th.

House and Lots for Sale.

THE undersigned offer for sale a rent and commodious DWELLING HOUSE, and a lot of land, with every necessary convenience for a family, situated in the town of Decatur, in Adams county, Indiana, near the River, and within 10 miles of Fort Wayne. Will be sold for cash, or approved payments. For terms enquire of the undersigned.

THOMAS JOHN O. H. WILLIAMS.

June 2, 1843.

COOKING STOVES.

HAMILTON & WILLIAMS have just received on consignment from the Pringle Iron Foundry, Erie, Pa. an assortment of cooking stoves of superior quality, and upon the latest improvement, which they will sell very low for cash.

WANTED.—5000 LBS. BEES WAX for which an unusually high price will be paid. SINCLEAR & CHITTENDEN.

June 7, 1843.

GROCERIES.—A fresh supply of Family Groceries, just received by HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.

LINK TO KNEE, of the latest fashion, kept in stock, and made to order. Ladies are invited to call and examine the same.

MRS. P. JONES.

Fort Wayne, June 4, 1843.

AMNES, FRENCH KID & FILLER, and LISLE GLOVES just received by HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.

June 17, 1843.

INDIANA HOUSE, T. N. LAWTON, CORNER OF SUMMIT & VIVAN STREETS, WILSON, OHIO.

A good Livery Stable is attached to this House.

ALEXANDER WILLIAMS, Attorney and Counsellor at Law, FORT WAYNE, INDIANA.

Office on Columbus street, opposite Dr. Becker's Drug Store.

TO OUR RETAIL CUSTOMERS, GREEN'S Arrow Satin, 1st hand, colored Cambrs, 1st hand, Green Robesons, and Broad Quiltings have arrived.

Aug. 26, 1843. SINCLEAR & CHITTENDEN.

INSIDE OIL.—For sale by the barrel or gallon, at BEECHER'S DRUG STORE, Fort Wayne, Ind.

SPRINTS TURPENTINE—C. oil and Japan Varnish of the best quality, for sale at BEECHER'S DRUG STORE.

Aug. 5. Fort Wayne Ind.

S. G. UPTON, Attorney and Counsellor at Law, BLUFFTON, WELLS COUNTY, IA.

All professional business entrusted to his care, will be faithfully attended to.

He will also attend to the sale of lands, payment of taxes, and all business connected with Land Agency, &c.

Aug. 2. 4-15

MOORE.—Just received, a lot of superfine Lafayette flour, on commission.

Aug. 4. L. G. &

L. P. FERRY,
Attorney & Counsellor-at-Law,
FORT WAYNE, IA.
WILL tend to all business entrusted to him professionally, in the county of Allen, Adams, Huntington, Whitley, Noble, Lagrange, Steuben, and De Kalb; and to collections throughout the State.
Having formed a connection with a gentleman of the name of Indianapolis, he will be enabled to assist persons in taking the benefit of the HANBURY LAW, with less expense and delay than would otherwise attend the application.
OFFICE: In the north side of Main, west Calhoun-street.

F. P. RANDALL,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW
AND MASTER IN CHANCERY.
FORT WAYNE, Indiana.
Office in the second story of Barnett & Hanna's new brick building Columbia Street.
Oct. 16, 1842.

COOCHES & BRACKENRIDGE
ATTORNEYS AT LAW.
FORT WAYNE, IA.
Will attend to all civil business, at law or in Chancery entrusted to their care. Office on Clinton street, half way between Hamilton and Williams' store and the Bank.
N. B. All persons indebted to the late firm of EWING & BRACKENRIDGE will please call upon B. Brackenridge and pay up.
Feb 2, 1843.

J. S. FANCHER,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,
FORT WAYNE, IA.
Office on Columbia-street, nearly opposite the post-office.
March 4, 1842.

E. F. COLERICK,
NOTARY PUBLIC.
May be found at the office of D. H. Colerick, on Berry-street, two doors east of the Market House.
Fort Wayne, Dec. 23, 1842.

QUEENSWARE AND CHINA, newest styles
Glass Ware, &c.
HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.
JUNIATA IRON & NAILS of every size,
HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.

Drugs & Medicines.
THE subscribers have on hand a general assortment of Medicines which they will sell low, consisting in part of the following:
Eysom and Glycer Sulfate.
Cream Tartar.
Sulphur.
Castor Oil & Olive do.
Turkey Opium.
Sulph. Quinine.
Rhubarb.
Purgative.
Bismuth's drops.
Nerve and Bone Liniment.
Senna & Manna.
HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.
Jan. 26, 1843.

Medical Notice.
DOCTORS THOMPSON & STURGEON respectfully inform the citizens of Ft Wayne and vicinity, that they will continue the practice of MEDICINE & SURGERY in all their various branches. Office next door to Compere and Booth's, and nearly opposite the store of L. G. & R. P. Jones.
L. G. THOMPSON
C. E. STURGEON.
Fort Wayne March 20 1841.

TO THE PUBLIC.
WILLIAM BARBEE AND JAMES W. YANDES, having purchased an interest in the paper Mill at this place, of Daniel Yandes, one of the late firm of Thompson & Yandes [which late firm was a few days since dissolved].
The manufacture of Paper will be continued by the new firm of Barbree, Yandes & Co., who are determined to spare no exertions to supply the Western Valley as well as part of the north and west of our State.
Blank book paper; letter and writing paper; plain and ruled; printing paper; envelope paper; Tea and wrapping paper; Bonnet boards, &c. &c.
The Mill being in fine operation and worked by experienced hands we are enabled to say that all orders will be executed with all practicable despatch.
Rags and Tanners scraps Wanted.
Messrs LEWIS & WALLACE are their agents in Fort Wayne, and have now on hand a large supply of RAGS, TANNERS' SCRAPS, FOUL CAPS, AND LETTER PAPER, BONNET BOARDS, &c., which they will sell at manufacturers' prices.
N. B. Agencies for selling paper have or will be established with full supplies at all points on the Wabash river and Wabash & Erie Canal, where rags will be received and forwarded.
BARBEE, YANDES, & CO.

Furniture and Chairs for sale, or exchanged for Country Produce.
PRICES TO SUIT THE HARD TIMES!!!
F. P. TINKINIA writes the farmers to call at his old establishment west of B. W. McCulloch, and see the quality and prices of his chairs and Furniture. A general assortment will be constantly kept on hand.
Dec. 31, 1842.

TO CITIZENS OF THE CITY OF FORT WAYNE.
IN accordance with suggestions made to us by the Board of Health, that the recently opened thoroughfare to this place, and the prevalence of the small pox in the eastern and southern parts of the country, render us liable to be visited by this scourge, unless timely measures of precaution are taken to avert it, we do therefore recommend that every person in the city in need of such a preventive, do undergo vaccination, without delay.
HENRY LOTZ, Mayor.
F. P. RANDALL,
JOHN McCULLOUGH,
PHILIP TAYLOR,
L. WILLIAMS,
M. W. HUBBELL.

Cheap Cabinet Shop.
LOUIS GRIEBEL informs the public that he has commenced the Cabinet making business, on the Public Square, two doors south of the American House, where he will keep for sale, or make to order, every article that may be called for. He intends to use the best materials, and finish his work equal to any other shop in the place, and as his prices will be as cheap as the cheapest, he hopes to receive a share of the public support.
All kinds of Produce or Store pay taken in payment of work. A lot of first rate WINDOW SASH at 6d per ft.

Encourage Home Manufacture.
THE undersigned respectfully informs his old customers and the public generally that he has just returned from the eastern cities with the largest and best stock ever brought to this market, consisting of:
Upper leather, coarse and fine.
Kip skins of various qualities.
Calfskins of a superior kind.
Morocco, &c. &c.
together with India Rubber Over Shoes, and a general assortment of Shoe Findings, all of which is prepared to make up to order in the cheapest and most fashionable style, for the ready cash.
The farmers of this and the neighboring counties can purchase at this establishment on better terms than any other in Northern Indiana. Give us a call.
A. LINTZ.

Neal's Patent Lard Lamp
THE best Emeco cleanly and economical article of the kind ever invented. Manufactured and for sale by
M. LEWIS.

WOODEN WARE BASKETS &c.
CEDAR and common tubs; wooden bowls, &c. Also a variety of Ladies Travelling and other Baskets.
HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.

County Order taken at Par
A T this office on newspaper and printing, &c. is offered during the present month, and most kinds of Produce will be taken at fair market prices.
November 12 1841.

Cash for Wheat.
FAIRFAX & FREEMAN will pay cash at all times for any quantity of Wheat delivered at their Mill on the St. Mary's, about one mile south west of Fort Wayne.
St. Mary's Mill, Dec. 2, 1842.

CASH FOR WHEAT. At Hamilton and Williams' New Store, Corner of Clinton and Columbia Streets.

FASHIONABLE
Millinery Establishment.
MRS PAUL
FASHIONABLE MILLINER.
Berry-street, nearly opposite the Presbyterian Church, FORT WAYNE.
Mrs. P., having a Patent Bonnet Press (the only one west of the mountains) will turn, clean, and alter Straw and Leghorn Hats and Bonnets in a superior style. Silk Bonnets kept on hand or made to order.

WHITE LEAD.
THE subscribers, agents for the BUFFALO WHITE LEAD CO., are now receiving from the manufacturer a large supply of the various qualities, Dry and Ground in oil, in assorted packages.
They are warranted in assuring the public that they can be furnished with an article inferior to none manufactured.
Western dealers and purchasers generally are solicited to give this Lead a trial.
Terms will be at least as low as New York or Boston prices, without adding transportation.
ATWATER, WILLIAMS & CO.
6041 pt 85 00 Corner Prime & Lloyd sts.
Oct 7 Chicago American, Michigan City Gazette, Milwaukee Sentinel, Cleveland Herald, Toledo Blade, Fort Wayne Sentinel, Lafayette (Whig paper) will please publish six months and Detroit Advertiser, 3 months, and send bill to this office immediately.—Buffalo Com. Ad.

SALERATUS.
THE subscribers, agents for the BUFFALO SALERATUS MANUFACTORY, are now receiving a large supply of the above article which they will sell at the lowest market prices. Dealers are invited to call before purchasing elsewhere.
ATWATER, WILLIAMS & CO.
6041 pt 85 00 Corner Prime & Lloyd sts.
Oct 7 Chicago American, Milwaukee Sentinel, Fort Wayne Sentinel, and Michigan City Gazette, will please publish six months, and send bill to this office immediately.—Buffalo Commercial Advertiser.

TEA.—Some first quality Tea opened to-day call and try it TOWNLEY'S.
April 15.

SHAWLS.—Large assortment, of various styles and qualities.
HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.

A BUN TO THE HUMAN RACE.
"Discover what will destroy Life, and I will tell you what will prolong Life, and the world will call you Imposter."
There are medicines, bodily and intellectual, without which, with certain herbs have affinity and offer which they have power."
DR. BRANDRETH'S
External Remedy, or Liniment.

WHICH by its extraordinary powers, abstracts pains or sorrows; thus pains, rheumatism, neuralgia, rheumatic pains or stiff joints, stiffness of joints, tumors, unnatural hardness, stiff neck, sore throat, excruciating pains of the muscles, scrofulous enlargements, tender feet, and every description of injury affecting the exterior of the human frame are cured or relieved by his never-to-be-sufficiently extolled remedy.
CERTIFICATE:
The following letter from Major Gen. Sanford is to the qualities of the External Remedy, &c. volume:
New York, Feb. 9, 1842.
Dear Sir: Will you oblige me with another bottle of your excellent Liniment? It is certainly the best of the kind I have ever seen. It has cured entirely my son's knee, which I was so uneasy, and I have found it productive of immediate relief in several cases of external injury in my family. A few evenings since, my youngest child was seized with a violent attack of croup which was entirely removed in 20 minutes, by rubbing her chest and throat with the Liniment. I have no doubt, but that it is well adapted to manufacture for general use, instead of confining the use of it, as you have done to your particular acquaintances.
C. W. SANFORD.
Dr B Brandreth, 241 Broadway New York.
The following are the only agents in Allen County,
Fort Wayne—J. W. Townley,
Ed River—J. Harmon,
Marion—D. McLean,
Sept. 10, 1842.

PROSPECTUS OF THE
New Genesee Farmer
AND GARDNER'S JOURNAL.
Vol. IV. for 1843.
HENRY COLMAN, Editor for the first quarter, and M. B. BATEMAN, for the remainder of the year.
Published by C. F. CROSWAN and E. SHEPARD, Rochester. Sixteen pages monthly, enlarged and improved, price $1.00 per year, in advance.
THE character of the Genesee Farmer, and its ability and usefulness universally applauded. Published in one of the best farming districts in the world, and in one of the finest and busiest cities of the growing west, the very home of active industry and intelligence, where information and practical talent of the highest order are concentrated, no pains will be spared to make it all that such a paper should be.
Under present arrangements, Mr. Colman is expected to continue in the editorial department for the first third of the year; and whenever he is by his revision, it will pass into able and competent hands, who will do justice to the paper and its contents. Mr. Colman contemplates an agricultural tour in Europe, and will be a regular correspondent of the paper through the year.
Mr. Bateman, as travelling agent and correspondent, designs to spend most of his time among the farmers, observing their condition, and operations, and his contributions will be interesting and instructive. The Genesee Farmer, it is expected, will continue their valuable contributions. With these arrangements, the proprietors feel assured that the long tried friends of the Genesee Farmer will not desert the paper; but will use their influence to extend its circulation, and to keep constantly on hand all the articles in its line, which he will sell at the lowest possible rates, for cash or produce.
Old year will be repaired at the shortest notice.
* * Old copper, brass, pewter, and paper rags taken at the highest market price.
Fort Wayne, Feb. 10, 1842.

MORGAN LEWIS
INFORMS his friends and the public generally, that he has opened a shop for the manufacture of Copper, Tin, and Sheet Iron Ware in all its branches, in the building on the north of Columbia street, lately occupied as a drug store by Doct. Beecher, (the chequered Store), where he intends to keep constantly on hand all articles in his line, which he will sell at the lowest possible rates, for cash or produce.
Old year will be repaired at the shortest notice.
* * Old copper, brass, pewter, and paper rags taken at the highest market price.
Fort Wayne, Feb. 10, 1842.

SUMMER HATS.—100 Dozen Palm Leaf Hats for sale wholesale and retail at TOWNLEY'S
April 15.

BOOTS! BOOTS! BOOTS!
Encourage Home Manufacture.
THE undersigned respectfully informs his old customers and the public generally that he has just returned from the eastern cities with the largest and best stock ever brought to this market, consisting of:
Upper leather, coarse and fine.
Kip skins of various qualities.
Calfskins of a superior kind.
Morocco, &c. &c.
together with India Rubber Over Shoes, and a general assortment of Shoe Findings, all of which is prepared to make up to order in the cheapest and most fashionable style, for the ready cash.
The farmers of this and the neighboring counties can purchase at this establishment on better terms than any other in Northern Indiana. Give us a call.
A. LINTZ.

Neal's Patent Lard Lamp
THE best Emeco cleanly and economical article of the kind ever invented. Manufactured and for sale by
M. LEWIS.

WOODEN WARE BASKETS &c.
CEDAR and common tubs; wooden bowls, &c. Also a variety of Ladies Travelling and other Baskets.
HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.

County Order taken at Par
A T this office on newspaper and printing, &c. is offered during the present month, and most kinds of Produce will be taken at fair market prices.
November 12 1841.

Cash for Wheat.
FAIRFAX & FREEMAN will pay cash at all times for any quantity of Wheat delivered at their Mill on the St. Mary's, about one mile south west of Fort Wayne.
St. Mary's Mill, Dec. 2, 1842.

CASH FOR WHEAT. At Hamilton and Williams' New Store, Corner of Clinton and Columbia Streets.

1843.
E. Haskell & Co.
Forwarding & Commission Merchants,
Agents for the New York and Toledo line, and dealers in Flour, Pork, Salt, Flour, Grain, &c.
TOLEDO.
Messrs. Mott & Co., Toledo.
P. Evans & Co., Defiance.
Sprague & Brown, J. W. Townley & Co., Fort Wayne.
J. J. Holts No. 16 South St. is agent of N. Y. and Toledo Line, in New York city.
N. B. We are proprietors of a large number of Lake Vessels of the first class, which will enable us to give despatch to all property consigned to us, for shipment to an eastern market.
Toledo, March, 1843.

Auction Notice.
JAMES CRUMLEY has taken out licence to sell at auction in the City of Fort Wayne, and will at all times be ready to attend to auction all kinds of Goods, Wares and Merchandise, or reasonable per centage. He will also receive all kinds of Goods, Wares, and Merchandise to sell on Commission, as well as attend to selling Horses, and other live stock at auction.
Regular Auction days will be Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays of each week.
AUCTION ROOM two doors East of Joseph Morgan's Store on Columbia street.
No pains will be spared to give general satisfaction.
JAMES CRUMLEY.
Fort Wayne, March 29, 1843.

Fort Wayne Axe Factory
AND MACHINE SHOP.
THE undersigned having located himself in the city of Fort Wayne, a few rods east of Samuel Edsall's saw mill, would inform the public that he has commenced the manufacture of all kinds of Axes and Saws. Mill Hauls and all kinds of SCREW WORK such as Mill's and Clothes' Screws. He will also furnish all kinds of cast iron gearing for grist mills or any other machinery, or do any kind of BRASS CASTING which may be wanted in this or the adjoining Counties.
He assures the public, should they favor him with their work, that from his experience in some of the best eastern factories, by strict attention to the workmanship, and using the best materials that they will be no longer under the necessity of sending east or south for the above articles. At least call and examine for yourselves.
"All orders from a distance will meet with prompt attention."
Cast and wrought iron and brass TURNING, done to order.
GEORGE BUCHANAN.
March 26, 1842.

Splendid and Fashionable
Furniture & Chairs!
B. T. TOWER, informs the public that he is now carrying on the Cabinet and Chair making business in all its various branches. His Furniture and Chairs he warrants to be as well made and will sell as cheap as any other establishment in the country. He keeps on hand and will make to order all kinds of Rocking and Windsor Chairs, SIDE-BOARDS, BUREAUX, Bedstead and Cradles, Work Stands, Tables, &c. &c.
B. T. especially invites the attention of the newly married, and of those who intend to enter the matrimonial state to his warehouse, where they may find every article in his line which they may need either in commencing housekeeping or afterwards.
The public is invited to call at his warehouse on Columbia Street, one door east of Bellamy's Shoe Shop, and inspect his splendid Sideboards, Sofas, Dressing Bureaus, and Mahogany Chairs.
Fort Wayne, April 29, 1843.

Window Glass.
A FULL ASSORTMENT just received by
HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.
SHEETINGS AND SHIRTINGS.—6000 yds
heavy and wide factory cloth, suitable for
Apr 15. TOWNLEY'S.

Fort Wayne Foundry.
THE undersigned respectfully informs the citizens of Allen and the adjacent Counties that the above establishment is now in successful operation. All kinds of work usually done in foundries will be accurately and promptly executed.
The following named articles will be kept on hand, and can be had at all times:
Lath Irons, Farming Mill Irons, Sad Irons, Waggon-Boxes, Plough Irons, Wheel Barrow Wheels, &c. &c.
Or made to order and on as good terms as they can be had at Dayton, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Buffalo, or Milwaukee.
The attention of the farming community is particularly directed to Wood's Case Iron Plough, a superior article, also a Horse Plough, and a quantity of Rifle Barrels, wholesale and retail, at eastern prices.
All kinds of repairing will be punctually attended to and done in the best manner, cheaper than ever, and warranted. All kinds of PRODUCE will be taken for work. The community will find it to their great advantage to give me a call.
WILLIAM IBA,
from Lancaster, Pa.
Fort Wayne, Dec. 2, 1842.

IRON.
10 Tons Iron for sale at reduced prices by
J. W. TOWNLEY & Co.
May 27 1843.

COTTON YARN.
2000 Pounds Cotton Yarn, for sale by
J. W. TOWNLEY & Co.
PURE MILK. PRICE REDUCED.
E. HINTON informs his old customers and the citizens of Fort Wayne, in general, that he has reduced the price of Milk to THREE CENTS A QUART. He will punctually serve his customers, daily, with pure, wholesome and genuine Milk, and they may use it without suspicion, and with full reliance that the utmost neatness and cleanliness are observed in every department of his establishment.

CALICOES.—10,000 yards calicoes, selling cheaper than ever at TOWNLEY'S.
April 29, '43.

1843.
E. Haskell & Co.
Forwarding & Commission Merchants,
Agents for the New York and Toledo line, and dealers in Flour, Pork, Salt, Flour, Grain, &c.
TOLEDO.
Messrs. Mott & Co., Toledo.
P. Evans & Co., Defiance.
Sprague & Brown, J. W. Townley & Co., Fort Wayne.
J. J. Holts No. 16 South St. is agent of N. Y. and Toledo Line, in New York city.
N. B. We are proprietors of a large number of Lake Vessels of the first class, which will enable us to give despatch to all property consigned to us, for shipment to an eastern market.
Toledo, March, 1843.

Auction Notice.
JAMES CRUMLEY has taken out licence to sell at auction in the City of Fort Wayne, and will at all times be ready to attend to auction all kinds of Goods, Wares and Merchandise, or reasonable per centage. He will also receive all kinds of Goods, Wares, and Merchandise to sell on Commission, as well as attend to selling Horses, and other live stock at auction.
Regular Auction days will be Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays of each week.
AUCTION ROOM two doors East of Joseph Morgan's Store on Columbia street.
No pains will be spared to give general satisfaction.
JAMES CRUMLEY.
Fort Wayne, March 29, 1843.

Fort Wayne Axe Factory
AND MACHINE SHOP.
THE undersigned having located himself in the city of Fort Wayne, a few rods east of Samuel Edsall's saw mill, would inform the public that he has commenced the manufacture of all kinds of Axes and Saws. Mill Hauls and all kinds of SCREW WORK such as Mill's and Clothes' Screws. He will also furnish all kinds of cast iron gearing for grist mills or any other machinery, or do any kind of BRASS CASTING which may be wanted in this or the adjoining Counties.
He assures the public, should they favor him with their work, that from his experience in some of the best eastern factories, by strict attention to the workmanship, and using the best materials that they will be no longer under the necessity of sending east or south for the above articles. At least call and examine for yourselves.
"All orders from a distance will meet with prompt attention."
Cast and wrought iron and brass TURNING, done to order.
GEORGE BUCHANAN.
March 26, 1842.

Splendid and Fashionable
Furniture & Chairs!
B. T. TOWER, informs the public that he is now carrying on the Cabinet and Chair making business in all its various branches. His Furniture and Chairs he warrants to be as well made and will sell as cheap as any other establishment in the country. He keeps on hand and will make to order all kinds of Rocking and Windsor Chairs, SIDE-BOARDS, BUREAUX, Bedstead and Cradles, Work Stands, Tables, &c. &c.
B. T. especially invites the attention of the newly married, and of those who intend to enter the matrimonial state to his warehouse, where they may find every article in his line which they may need either in commencing housekeeping or afterwards.
The public is invited to call at his warehouse on Columbia Street, one door east of Bellamy's Shoe Shop, and inspect his splendid Sideboards, Sofas, Dressing Bureaus, and Mahogany Chairs.
Fort Wayne, April 29, 1843.

Window Glass.
A FULL ASSORTMENT just received by
HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.
SHEETINGS AND SHIRTINGS.—6000 yds
heavy and wide factory cloth, suitable for
Apr 15. TOWNLEY'S.

Fort Wayne Foundry.
THE undersigned respectfully informs the citizens of Allen and the adjacent Counties that the above establishment is now in successful operation. All kinds of work usually done in foundries will be accurately and promptly executed.
The following named articles will be kept on hand, and can be had at all times:
Lath Irons, Farming Mill Irons, Sad Irons, Waggon-Boxes, Plough Irons, Wheel Barrow Wheels, &c. &c.
Or made to order and on as good terms as they can be had at Dayton, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Buffalo, or Milwaukee.
The attention of the farming community is particularly directed to Wood's Case Iron Plough, a superior article, also a Horse Plough, and a quantity of Rifle Barrels, wholesale and retail, at eastern prices.
All kinds of repairing will be punctually attended to and done in the best manner, cheaper than ever, and warranted. All kinds of PRODUCE will be taken for work. The community will find it to their great advantage to give me a call.
WILLIAM IBA,
from Lancaster, Pa.
Fort Wayne, Dec. 2, 1842.

IRON.
10 Tons Iron for sale at reduced prices by
J. W. TOWNLEY & Co.
May 27 1843.

COTTON YARN.
2000 Pounds Cotton Yarn, for sale by
J. W. TOWNLEY & Co.
PURE MILK. PRICE REDUCED.
E. HINTON informs his old customers and the citizens of Fort Wayne, in general, that he has reduced the price of Milk to THREE CENTS A QUART. He will punctually serve his customers, daily, with pure, wholesome and genuine Milk, and they may use it without suspicion, and with full reliance that the utmost neatness and cleanliness are observed in every department of his establishment.

CALICOES.—10,000 yards calicoes, selling cheaper than ever at TOWNLEY'S.
April 29, '43.

Medical Notice.
DOCTOR BRYDER, makes respectful notice of his professional services in the various branches of MEDICINE & SURGERY. Residence in the house recently occupied by H. T. Dewey.
Office immediately opposite Dr. Beecher's Drug store, in the room recently occupied by Esq. Williams as a justice office, a place where he may be commonly be consulted except when absent on professional business.
Fort Wayne, April 4, '43.

DR. AYRES will attend to the practice of MEDICINE in Fort Wayne and the surrounding country; and will at any hour, promptly attend to the calls of those who may thus favor him.
Office one door east of the Post Office. Residence on Lafayette street, opposite Mr. McJunkin's school room.
Sep. 23, 1842.

100 Boxes Glass, of the best quality, embracing all sizes, will be sold for cash at reduced prices by HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.

WHITE LEAD.
50 Kegs White Lead for sale by
J. W. TOWNLEY & Co.
May 27 1843.

Nails & Glass.
100 Kegs Eastern Nails, 100 boxes Glass, for sale by J. W. TOWNLEY & Co.
May 27 1843.

Roots! Roots! Roots!!!
THE subscriber will pay the highest price for any quantity of Genseng, Seneca, Snake Root, Ladies Slipper, Sarsaparilla, and the bark of Sassafras roots.
J. W. TOWNLEY & Co.
June 15, 1843.

Choice assortment of Summer PRINTS & LAWS just received, and will be sold low.
June 17, '43. HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.

CLOTHS & CASSIMERES.
Black, Invariable Green, Blue Black, Cadet, mixel, Brown and Blue Broadcloths; Blue Black, Fancy Mixed and Super Striped Cassimeres at SINCEAR & CHITTENDEN.
June 7, '43.

1,000 Bushels of WHEAT wanted, for which the highest price yet will be paid by SINCEAR & CHITTENDEN.

POT AND PEARL ASHES.—The highest price paid for pot and pearl ashes by SINCEAR & CHITTENDEN.

30 Bales Brown Sheetting just received and for sale by the piece or by the lot, at the store of
HAMILTON & WILLIAMS.

Iron and Nails.
HAMILTON & WILLIAMS have just received a large assortment of best Iron and Nails, which will be sold at Lafayette, Dayton or Toledo prices.
May 20, 1843.

Cash and Produce Store.
JUST received and no mistake. 300 pieces Prints, from 6d to 10d to Indigo Blues.
July 29 L. G. & R. P. JONES.

SHIPPED from Boston on 24 inst. and expect to arrive every hour at the City and Produce Store, 22 cases Boots and Shoes, from 2 shillings up to 10, 12—don't forget to call.
July 29 L. G. & R. P. JONES.

Collins, Palmer, and Co.
Forwarding and Commission Merchants,
TOLEDO, OHIO,
Agents for the Am. Transportation Co., Troy & Chicago, Rail Road, and Clinton Lines, on the Erie Canal and Lakes.
TOLEDO & WABASH LINE
on the Wabash and Erie canal.
Dealers in Salt, Flour, Grain, Coal, Pig Iron, &c.
ARE now prepared to make liberal advances on produce for sale at Toledo, or destined for an eastern market; Also, to contract for freight from and to New York, for any point on the Wabash and Erie canal, for the above responsible lines.

JOHN M. COLLINS,
PETER PALMER,
T. O. CONNELL.
REFER TO
Saylam, Sage & Co. New York
H. Niles, "
H. McCollum, "
Hess & Powers, "
James S. Wyckoff & Co., "
P. L. Parson & Co. Buffalo.
McPherson & Crane, Kingston, U. C.
Brooks & Crocker, Oswego.
C. Howard, Esq., Detroit.
Hamilton & Williams, Fort Wayne
Jan. 21, 1843.

Vaccination.
DR. C. SCHMITZ informs the public that he keeps constantly on hand a supply of fresh VACCINE MATTER. As Vaccination is acknowledged to be a sure preventive to that dread scourge the SMALL POX, he presumes parents will neglect the present opportunity of securing their children against its ravages.
Office on Calhoun street nearly opposite the Lafayette House.
Fort Wayne, July 1, '43.

STORAGE,
Forwarding and Commission.
SAMUEL HANNA & SON having built a large and commodious Ware House immediately on the canal, in the city of Fort Wayne, are prepared to Store and advance on Goods and Produce.
P. S. All business entrusted to their care will be promptly attended to.
S. H. & SON
June 24, 1853.

WANTED to rent, a comfortable middle sized House in Fort Wayne. Possession will be wanted 1st of September next. Inquire at American House.
J. P. TURK.
June 29, 1843-p

Land for Sale.
THE subscriber having been legally authorized by the owners of various tracts of land, is now ready to sell and execute contracts for the same. The land lies in the counties of Allen, Adams, Noble, DeKalb, Steuben, and Lagrange, Indiana; it was selected and entered by a practical farmer, with an especial regard to quality of soil and advantage of location for agricultural purposes, and is believed to be at least equal in value to any lands now in market. Little indisputable. Prices to correspond with the times, and terms of payment made easy to the purchaser.
The subscriber can at all times be found at the American House.
JAMES P. TURK.
Fort Wayne, June 26, 1843 p 6 m 1.

NEW VOLUME OF THE LADIES' COMPANION,
AND LITERARY EXPOSITOR.
PUBLISHED BY WILLIAM W. SNOWDEN, N. Y.
THE volumes of this old and popular magazine, which commenced with the May and November numbers.
Editors—Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney, Miss Emma C. Embury, and William W. Snowden.
At the urgent solicitation of thousands of subscribers and readers, the 'LADIES' COMPANION', in future, will be printed in a larger type. The general complaint has been, that the size of the type upon which the work has been printed since the commencement, was too small. To obviate such complaints, a splendid font of new Bourgeois type, which is larger than that formerly used, has been purchased from the foundry of George Bruce & Co., of this city—upon which the 'Ladies' Companion and Literary Expositor' will hereafter be printed, commencing with the May number, 1843. To give greater strength to the literary character of the Magazine, the valuable aid Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney and Emma C. Embury has been secured for the editorial department.

REGULAR LADY CONTRIBUTORS.
Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Mrs. E. F. Ellet Miss Frances S. Osgood, Mrs. Selma Smith, Mrs. A. M. F. Annan, Mrs. E. R. Steele, Mrs. M. St. Louis, Mrs. L. H. Sigourney, Mrs. Emma C. Embury, Miss Hannah F. Gould, Miss Mary Ann Brown, Miss A. D. Woodbridge, Mrs. Emeline S. Smith, Mrs. Caroline Orne.
Hon. Mrs. Norton, Mrs. F. C. Hall, Mrs. Gore, Miss M. A. Milford, Maria Edgeworth, Mary Howitt, of England, have promised to contribute, hereafter, pages of the 'Ladies' Companion and Literary Expositor'. The above unequalled list may be added the following:
GENTLEMAN CONTRIBUTORS!
Professor J. H. Ingraham, W. Gilmore Slams, Louis Fitzgerald Taitso, Henry W. Herbert Saba Smith, William Wallace, (Ky.) William B. Tappan, A. M. Makin, Wm. G. Howard, W. S. Mayo M. D., James T. Fields, Jno. C. McCabe, M. D., Isaac A. Leland, Jr., George D. Davis, Wm. Abbott, (Eng.) Henry T. Tuckerman, Rev. H. Chubb, George P. Morris, Rufus Davis, Esq. Sargent, N. P. Willis, Wm. E. Burton, Theodore S. Fay, Edgar A. Poe, A. D. Paterson, Horatio George, Henry B. Hirst, L. G. W. Patton, U. S. A. Jno. Burroughs, (Eng.) C. F. Daniel.

OCCASIONAL CONTRIBUTORS.
Sheridan Knowles, John New, Mark Leaman, Professor F. B. Calvert, J. Blanche, R. Shelton Mackenzie, Late Granville Mellen, Douglas Jerrold, Late Saml. Woodworth, W. T. Montcrieff, F. W. Thomas, W. H. Ainsworth, &c. &c.

Among the number of contributors to the 'Ladies' Companion', who have been named, will be perceived the names of men who have been the recipients of the highest honors of the nation, and whose reputation is identified with the progress of this country to that position in the world of letters, to which they have been signally instrumental in advancing it, and among them, these will be found the names of ladies who have established the claim of woman to the possession of the loftiest intellect, in its more refined and delicate characteristics, and have reared an enduring monument to the virtues and elevation of their sex. The talents of their contributors, it will be perceived, are of the most varied character. By this, it is rendered certain that every taste will be gratified—short every branch of elegant literature will receive attention. Poetry, tales, essays, the instructive and the amusing; the grave and the gay—will be blended, to enhance the interest of the Magazine.

MAGNIFICENT AND COSTLY PLATES!
are in the hands of Jordan & Halpan, A. L. Dick, J. N. Gimbride, and other eminent artists. Magnificent engravings, and occasionally a picture. Several of these splendid plates, already finished, and will be published during the year. Striptural plates will also form a portion of the superb embellishments preparing for the 'Ladies' Companion and Literary Expositor'. Our fashion plates, which have been pronounced superior to those of any other quarterly, will be continued monthly, and quarterly, as the change of the Parisian fashions was dictated. Engravings on wood—map and lace patterns, will from time to time add to the embellishments above promised. Lectures by the most celebrated professors, will be reported accurately—this securing to the readers of the 'Ladies' Companion and Literary Expositor', a correct journal of the interesting lectures delivered in New York, during the year. Life like portraits of many of the distinguished statesmen of America will appear, at stated periods. The public should bear in mind, that the five dollar Magazine, which contains more reading, including the cost of the engravings, than any of the five dollar magazines issued in America or Europe.

The Ladies' Companion and Literary Expositor, is published monthly in the city of New York and thus established in popular favor, after a progress of many years—issued with unflinching promptness, and regularly adorned with a beauty of two graphical execution, which properly challenges criticism, and with engravings, prepared in every instance, expressly for the work, after a careful selection of the subjects—enriched constantly with fashionable and popular music—superintended in all its departments, with the most scrupulous exactness in every particular—and filled with articles from the pens of the most popular, renowned and talented writers of the present country or England can boast, it is by no means an unwarrantable presumption thus to claim for the 'Ladies' Companion and Literary Expositor', the pre-eminence of being a Standard National Magazine.

Looking with a jealous eye to the honor of American Literature, and to the emulment, it is the endeavor of the proprietor of the Ladies' Companion, to be governed by principles of the broadest liberality; and to offer no privilege to the public which cannot be faithfully and fully redeemed. That every promise made in times past, has been scrupulously fulfilled, and that the present, and for